CODAGE MODERN SPA APOTHECARY

CODAGE is a French cosmetics brand founded in 2010 by Julien and Amandine Azencott, a brother and sister who grew up within a family of doctors, pharmacists and dermatologists. When they were little, they already used to enjoy concocting magic potions in the back room of their uncle's pharmacy. Many years later and after having worked in major cosmetic groups, they went on to develop cosmetics lines for dermatologists in the United States before finally creating their own skincare & Spa brand with just one goal in mind: to offer the best in active cosmetology in a targeted and personalized way.

Convinced that each skin is unique and thereby deserves its own particular treatment, they revive the dialogue practiced by the apothecaries of yore, when anyone could walk-in and discuss their way of life, needs and desires with an expert and in return be provided with a made-to-measure formula. They make thus the science of formulation accessible to enable anyone to understand and to be co-creator of one's skincare. A vision of cosmetics based on listening, advice and service to offer targeted solutions for the needs of each individual Skin.

The skin is a living organism that needs to be properly nourished. Its needs change every day and are influenced by seasons, your environment and your life rhythm. Every day, your skin deserves a specific and adapted nutrition.

For CODAGE formulation is an art, its aim beyond the aesthetic, to embrace health and well-being. CODAGE only creates clean formulations: no use of parabens, allergens, phthalates or other petrochemicals and does not test on animals.

CODAGE celebrates the uniqueness of each and all. It goes beyond flesh, moments and lives. CODAGE plays it straight, what goes into the products is for all to see; Simplicity and Involvement. Aesthetics inspire the sensuality in the CODAGE textures and the refinement of the preparations. VOGUE PARIS claims, 'CODAGE is the ambassador of the new generation of the beauty made in France', and CODAGE is today largely endorsed by many influencers, celebrities and the most well-respected beauty editors around the globe.
